These essays will help us understand more about the society during the 19th century and what was happening at that time, how people would react to certain situations etc. Telugu literature is one of the oldest literatures known among South Asian literature. The earliest work belonging to this group, Tholkappiyam is thought to be written as early as second century BC. This makes it one of the earliest available literatures in South Asia and the first available literature in any Dravidian language. Telugu literature has a long history and Mahanaya Samasam telugu pdf free 40 is one of the earliest works that are considered part of post-Vedic Sanskrit Literature. Mahanaya Samasam telugu pdf free 40 was written by Kalipatnam Rama Rao, who was a famous writer of Hindu Telugu literature during that period. His works are known for its portrayal of women's roles in ancient Telugu literature. Not much is known about his life except that he was a disciple of the famous writer, Dattani Narayana Rao. Throughout Mahanaya Samasam telugu pdf free 40, Rama Rao has tried to explore two main themes by writing about Bhanu and Sarojini's relationship. First, he has tried to explore the troubles faced by women in Telugu society during that period by having Bhanu actually commit suicide. Second, he has tried to explore how an individual can think about committing suicide due to society's restrictions on them through having Sarojini actually take her life. The author, his work and the time period is important to understand. Kalipatnam Rama Rao was a Brahmin, who was born in 1854 in Bhimavaram area of West Godavari district. He was born into an orthodox Brahmin family and lived during the British period which started with Robert Clive's victory at the Battle of Plassey in 1757. While there is no specific information about how he lived during this period or how he reacted to the changes brought by the British rule, we do know that there were advanced developments in education systems, commerce and so on beginning from this period.
